

Donate a Copy of The Buzzards Have Landed! to a School or Library for a Discounted Price!

As Roscoe Churchill's co-author and friend, it is my goal to get The Buzzards Have Landed! into public libraries, colleges and high schools across Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Alaska and all other states faced with the prospect of new metallic sulfide mines. As we in Wisconsin learned the hard way, mining companies work under a cloak of secrecy and illusion. That's how they are able to propagate their misdeeds from one generation to the next. If more and more people learn the real story of how these buzzards operate, as documented so well in Roscoe's book, those who continue the fight to protect our land and clean water will certainly have greater success in the future.

In that spirit, if anyone wishes to purchase a copy of Roscoe's book to donate to a school or library, a discounted price of $38.00 will apply. If this is of interest to you, please click on Library & School Donation Form. All you have to do is print a copy of the form, fill it out and mail it to me at Deer Tail Press. So as to avoid duplication, I will keep a master list of schools and libraries that have received copies of the book. If the institution of your choice already has one, perhaps we will be able to come up with an alternative site. I will also provide you with a special label that can be affixed to the inside cover acknowledging your gift.

Roscoe and Evelyn Churchill's goal all along was to "get the word out" about the hazards of metallic sulfide mining, and it was Roscoe's hope that by reading his and Evelyn's story, others could learn from their experience in fighting a multinational corporation. By purchasing a copy of Roscoe's book for yourself or donating a copy to a school or library, we can work together to further that goal.

Thank you,
Laura Furtman
